MAY FIND RELATIVES OF MINER WHO DIED

Clue Is Obtained and Is to Be Followed Up
by Undertakers

A clue that may lead to the location of relatives of J. B. Russell, who died at a local hospital Thursday morning was found yesterday. When Russell applied for work in a local mine he asked that Chester Smith of Los Angeles, be notified in case of accident. The definite address was given and last night the Palace undertakers wired Smith for information concerning the dead man. It is expected that an answer will be received today. It is not known whether Smith is a relative or a friend.

It is said that Russell had made the statement that he was a Mason and a Redman, but nothing was found in the man's personal effects that would tend to confirm the statement. Arrangements for the funeral will be made upon the receipt of an answer to the telegram addressed to the Los Angeles man. Russell's name was incorrectly given yesterday as Richards.

WILL HELP TO GAIN SUCCESS

Ignorance is a Handicap in Most Walks of Life Say Men of Business

EASY WAY TO LEARN

Seventy-five per cent of the business men of the country declare that the chief educational need of their employees is a better knowledge of English, including spelling, grammar and punctuation and the use of words in general.

Stenographers crowd to answer an advertisement announcing a position paying $4 a week, because they are not qualified to demand higher wages. Thousands of stenographers and typewriters trained in the art of making "pot-hooks" and tapping the typed keys are asking out an existence on meager wages.

These statements have a direct bearing upon the proposition that The Review is offering you a Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary free of charge, and give the reason for the popularity of the distribution.

Why?
Because the perusal of the dictionary is acknowledged by educators to be the best, the quickest and the only sure way of acquiring that knowledge which is a canvas of the big business houses of the country proves that there is a demand for.

Get out of the $4 class.
Or, if you are so poorly paid as that, at least become busy and take advantage which is now offered by The Review.

Six coupons clipped from consecutive issues of The Review and the small expense bonus specified in the display advertisement on another page of this issue do the trick and permit you to turn the tables upon what you regarded as misfortune when it was only your ignorance and limitations of your vocabulary binding you down.

Good authority for the statements as to need of education is Director Edward Ryerson, of the Pittsburgh High schools. When reorganizing the commercial department of High schools and inaugurating the night school system, he wrote to most of the representative business men of Pittsburgh, asking them to co-operate by suggestions as to what subjects of instruction should be given the greatest attention. This is what he reports:

English Most need by Applicants for Position.
"Of those replying, 75 per cent consider English (including spelling) essential, 58 per cent bookkeeping, 56 per cent penmanship, 28 per cent shorthand, etc., showing that the lamentable lack of English was considered to be deserving of first attention."

Asked what defects they noticed most frequently among their employees the majority replied that they deficient in training in spelling, grammar and punctuation."

What is the answer?
Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary does it.

REPRESENTATIVES OF RAILROADS ARE IN BISBEE TODAY

Party Arrives on Special
Train Last Evening
From Douglas

HOLD MEETING TODAY

The party of Southwestern railroad officials and general and traveling agents reached Bisbee last night about 7 o'clock from Douglas and the east, having left El Paso Thursday afternoon. It was not expected until yesterday that the party would reach the district until this morning but a telegram received yesterday conveyed the information that the party would arrive last night.

A conference will be held this morning at Warren between the Southwestern officials and Capt. John C. Greenway, general manager of the Calumet & Arizona copper company; and Dr. L. D. Ricketts, manager of the Greene Cananea interests at Cananea, relative to freight rates on copper ore.

An engagement will be made this morning by Jesse Yeakum, secretary of the Bisbee board of trade, for an interview between the committee of business men and the officials on the subject of cheaper freight rates on commodities between Bisbee and other points on the El Paso and Southwestern.

It is expected that the stay of the party in Bisbee and district will not be longer than today, as they will visit Morenci, Clifton and other points in Arizona. If it is possible for them to remain longer in the district they will visit the mines and probably have never visited a mining camp. Will probably be taken for a trip under ground.

Will Come Later.
Dr. James Douglas, president of the Southwestern, was not in the party that arrived in Bisbee last night, having come to Silver City from El Paso. He will visit Bisbee and Douglas after he has visited Morenci. It is said, he met the general agents of the road at El Paso Thursday and held a conference with them.

There are twenty-four in the party, which is traveling in three private cars, a Pullman, the San Pedro and the Alamogordo.

At the Copper Queen hotel cafe last night at 7 o'clock, the party was banqueted by the Southwestern chiefs. The banquet was somewhat informal and was attended by a number of Bisbee people, including officials of the Copper Queen company, a Phelps Dodge interest. A delightful camaraderie pervaded the banquet and an excellent menu was served.

WONDERFUL GROTTO EXHIBIT AT MUSEUM

Saved, with All Its Riot of Color from Copper
Mines

The following article from the New York World relative to a reproduction of the Bisbee grotto needs no explanation and only the comment that the wonders of nature are often more appreciated abroad.

A wonderful grotto with glittering walls of many colors transported to New York from the copper regions of Bisbee, Arizona, has been reconstructed at the American Museum of Natural History.

The grotto is part of a cavern recently discovered at Bisbee and which also contains a giant stalagmite said to have been tens of thousands of years in forming.

The cave contains many chambers, some with stalactite walls tinted a delicate green, some of salmon color, red, black and velvety brown, with ceilings and floors interlarded with crystals, white stalactites and stalagmites of different hues are scattered about the rooms.

Rising from the floor of the large chamber, which is thirty feet high and forty feet across, stands a great greenish white stalagmite fourteen feet in height and fifteen feet in diameter at the base.

"So impressive is it in size, so beautiful in outline," says Curator Edmund O. Hovey, "that it seemed little short of vandalism to destroy or mar it."

Formed by thousands of years of drippings from the ceiling of the cave, scientists agree that such a mass would require more than 67,000 years to have attained its present height. Near by is a congealed dripstone waterfall.

In the fourth story of the cave a remarkable compound stalactite resembling in outline, an elephant's ear, was found; this with other formations and a crystal covered floor and wall formed the glittering grotto.

Passages lead to a series of three smaller rooms, one containing walls of long green crystals. The cave was doomed to ruin through mining, but the grotto and other formations were saved.

Some of the wonderful green and white stalactites that adorn the gem and mineral halls of the museum have been furnished from this copper region.—New York World.

ONE VACANCY IS ABOLISHED

Council Meets and Names
John J. Hill to Succeed
L. L. Gilman
in Body

SESSION SHORT ONE

John J. Hill was elected a member of the city council at a special meeting of the survivors of that body last night at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Hill was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the automatic resignation of Councilman L. L. Gilman, who was disqualified from sitting in the council as a member from the first ward when he moved into the third.

Mr. Hill is a democrat and a member of the democratic county central committee. He has been a resident of Bisbee for a number of years and is a miner and investor in mines. He was elected by a vote of 3 to 1.

The nominations were W. R. Tonkin, nominated by Councilman Quick and John J. Hill nominated by Councilman Jim Henderson. On the roll call Councilman Henderson, Allen and Schmidt voted for Hill and Quick voted for Tonkin.

Other Action Postponed.
The matter of filling the vacancy in the second ward, caused by the resignation of Councilman Bryan, was postponed until a subsequent meeting at the suggestion of Councilman Allen. With one over a quorum to spare, the members of the council are not now afraid they may wake up some morning a defunct organization, which would have been the case yesterday had one of the councilmen died or resigned, and quite contrary to Thomas Jefferson's dictum in reference to office holders, "few die and none resign," more councilmen resign than die in Bisbee.

It is probable that another special meeting will be called in a day or so for the purpose of selecting in the new member from the first ward.

POSTPONEMENT CAUSE MOTHER NOT FOUND

Explanation Is Given for the Delay in Trial of Harvey Hughes

The reason of the postponement of the Harvey Hughes case until the next term of court at Tombstone is reported to be that the defense was unable to locate Hughes' mother, who it is expected the defense would use as a witness. The postponement was asked for by the defense and was granted. The next term of court will be the first term of the superior court with Judge Fred Sutter presiding.

As will be remembered from the evidence taken from the preliminary hearing before Judge Owen Murphy at Lowell, the attentions of Hughes' victim toward Mrs. Hughes was one of the causes of the trouble that led up to the killing of Ardley McElmonds at the Hughes rooming house in Lowell last July.

Soon after the preliminary it was reported that Mrs. Hughes had left the district and apparently the defense has not been able to ascertain where she went.

COUNTY EXPENDITURE SUGGESTS HIS THEORY

Mayor Newman Speaks of Commission to Run
Affairs

Remarking on the county expenditures for the year 1911, as published in the Review yesterday morning, Mayor Newman in discussing his plan for the application of the commission form of government of counties, took occasion to refer to the report of expenditures as a case in point.

"The report shows that upwards of $600,000 was expended by the county during the year 1911. That means that approximately $50,000 was expended at every monthly meeting of the board of supervisors on an average. The sessions of the monthly meeting are not a matter of days but of hours. While I do not say that the expenditures have not been judiciously made, I do contend that it is contrary to good business principles to operate a county government under a plan which prevents application of ordinary business principles of running a business, which a county government is."

"Spending money is a matter of business and the money in question is the county's money which fact does not make the matter of the expenditures any different from any other business corporation. It is contrary to reason as well as good business that three men meeting once a month for a few hours could administer the county's business affairs as wisely as a commission sitting all the time and on the job all the time, even though those three men be good business men. Any corporation in which the collections as well as the expenditures must be looked after would not survive six months if run after the manner of counties in Arizona."

The petition accompanying the will gave the value of the property in Los Angeles at $50,000, but placed no estimate as the worth of the entire estate.
